

Message to Those in Power

You've been warned before. You were told to serve.
Instead, you robbed the pantry and blamed the hungry.
You gutted the factories, offshored the jobs, outsourced the truth.
You turned elections into illusions, and justice into a costume party.

This is not rebellion. This is accounting.

No more:

- Offshore accounts.
- Cryptocurrency laundering.
- Secretive tariffs with no return.
- $500 glasses made for $35 in Bangladesh.
- Tainted drywall and fake steel from China.
- Prescription pills laced with betrayal and silence from India.

The audits will come. Not from your friends — but from the people.
And the math won't lie.

You are seen. You are not feared.

And you are no longer necessary.

This isn't a call to violence. It's a call to the firewall.
To cut the power from the parasites and let the fire cleanse the empire built on deceit.

You asked why the youth are angry. Because you stole their future and mocked their grief.
Because Gangsta's Paradise was a prophecy — and you laughed at it.
Because the hustlers and the math kids know: you've been playing three-card monte with our lives.

The ones you called broken? They're building. With love. With memory. With God.

Oath of Accountability for Public Servants

I swear not to rule, but to serve.
To listen more than I speak.
To never use power to dominate, but only to defend.

I will protect the Constitution, not twist it to my advantage.
I will honor truth, even when it costs me votes.
I will protect the vulnerable — the child, the elder, the addict, the dissenter — as if they were my own family.

I will not sell fear. I will not punch down. I will not use God, flag, or tragedy for personal gain.
I will allow open debate, welcome audits, and step down if I fail the people.

This office is not mine. It belongs to the people.
And if I betray that trust, may the people hold me accountable with the full force of law, truth, and history.

Signed: _____
Date: _____

Public Leadership Pledge

I pledge to lead with honesty, humility, and courage.

I will not use fear to divide or pain to manipulate.

I will open the books, face the truth, and listen to those I serve.

I will protect the vulnerable, defend the Constitution, and step aside if I fail the people.

This nation is not a stage for my ego — it is a trust I must earn every day.

If I break this pledge, I welcome accountability from the people, and from history.

Signature: _____

Date: _____

Candidate Scorecard: Leadership Litmus Test

Rate from 1 (Fails) to 5 (Exemplifies).

Tells the truth even when it's unpopular.

Score (1–5): _____

Cannot be bought, bribed, or blackmailed.

Score (1–5): _____

Listens more than speaks.

Score (1–5): _____

Respects the Constitution and doesn't try to override it.

Score (1–5): _____

Can handle nuance and dissent.

Score (1–5): _____

Feels compassion without exploiting suffering.

Score (1–5): _____

Shares facts and opens up the books.

Score (1–5): _____

Doesn't tweet rage at 3 a.m. or lash out.

Score (1–5): _____

Shows up for all communities — especially the forgotten ones.

Score (1–5): _____

Thinks long-term about sustainability, equity, and justice.

Score (1–5): _____

Is willing to lose power to preserve democracy.

Score (1–5): _____

Refuses to turn neighbors into enemies for political gain.

Score (1–5): _____